PERSONAL PROFILE:
This is a chance for you to really sell yourself in this part of your CV – if you don't have any previous experience in the industry you're looking to work in, don't panic. Talk about why you want to get into the said position, what was your motivation behind your career change and talk about any skills you possess that you think would make you a good fit for an available position. If possible, try to write your personal profile without using 'I' or 'me' too much. For example, rather than writing 'I am a hard working individual who is driven', try writing 'A hard working, driven individual.'
